NEW RELATIONSHIP -- Vice President and Mrs. Walter Mondale join Ambassador Chai Ze-Min in Washington in saluting the opening of formal diplomatic relations between the United States and China. Mr. Mondale called it "the dawn of a new and bountiful era in Sino-American relations." He predicted the new link-up would lead to "unparalleled" peace and stability in the Asia-Pacific region and in the world as a whole. (79-401)C
