

and later confers with leaders of the Congress

C351072

(81-1162-C) at the White House in Washington. The Vice President took over for President Ronald Reagan who was hospitalized following an assassination attempt.