

NEW U.N. ENVOY -- George Bush of Texas is sworn in as United States Representative to the United Nations. Potter Stewart, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, administers the oath as Mrs. Bush and President Nixon watch. The ceremony took place February 25 at the White House in Washington. The painting of President Abraham Lincoln is by 19th century American artist George P.A. Healy. Ambassador Bush replaces Charles W. Yost, who held the post since December 1968.

(71-866)

C351272