HERBERT HOOVER -- U. S. ELDER STATESMAN

Herbert Hoover's counsel often is sought by United States Government agencies and officials. On many occasions he has been called upon to appear before committees of the United States Congress to present his views on matters of Government policy and organization.

The photograph, taken June 29, 1949, shows Herbert Hoover testifying before the Armed Services Committee of the United States House of Representatives, in Washington, D. C. Mr. Hoover was discussing with the Committee a proposed Congressional bill designed to achieve a greater degree of unification among the United States armed forces. (SD-61482)

3.- La vasta experiencia política y administrativa del Sr. Hoover es continuamente objeto de consulta, por parte de los dirigentes norteamericanos. En esta foto se ve al eminente estadista, en su puesto asesor del Comité de Servicios Armados de la Cámara de Representantes de Estados Unidos, mientras se discutía una ley cuya finalidad era la de lograr una mayor unificación entre las fuerzas armadas de los Estados Unidos.
