

During the ten-day Casablanca conference the President reviewed U. S. Army troops that took part in the North African campaign.