

After his conference in the Middle East the President stopped for ceremonies in Sicily where he is seen decorating General Mark Clark, commander of the Allied Fifth Army.