

5-8: In the bedroom which he used as a man the same simplicity prevails. It was in this room that, as a young man, he fought a successful battle to overcome the handicaps of a crippling attack of infantile paralysis. (51-23461)

(Picture Story No. 363. This photograph was made at the Hyde Park, New York, home of the late Franklin Delano Roosevelt, 32nd President of the United States. The home is a national shrine, the buildings being open to the public, and the Roosevelt grave is in the rose garden. This birthplace of the man who became a symbol of freedom to many people of the world has attracted half a million visitors yearly. See accompanying text.)
