

United States, shakes hands with Wanda Wiley, polio victim whose picture appeared on posters distributed throughout the Nation during the annual fund-raising campaign of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. They are shown with four other victims of poliomyelitis in various stages of recovery who were pictured on campaign posters during previous years. (SD-61998)

(No. 1 of 2-photo Picture story #185. See accompanying text.)

1- A-14

El Presidente Truman estrecha la mano a Wanda Wiley, niña víctima de la poliomiélitis, cuyo retrato inundó en forma de carteles la nación norteamericana, como propaganda de la cuestación.

C55KAF2