

CGS12F2

X

LADY BIRD JOHNSON: WIFE OF AMERICAN VICE PRESIDENT

29 DIC. 1960

Claudia (Lady Bird) Taylor Johnson, wife of the new American Vice President, Senator Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas. Beguiling and efficient, "Lady Bird" makes both the Johnsons' Washington home, and their Texas ranch centers of an abundant hospitality; she maintains a close and congenial relationship with her two teen-age daughters; she has built up and continues to run a very successful radio-television business; and during the campaign she urged the election of Democratic party nominees in appearances before groups in 30 states.

The Johnsons pause for a cup of coffee with a neighbor and cousin, Mrs. Oriole Bailey, after their ride over from their Texas ranch.

(Photo No. 60-20501. Accompanies Feature F-60-384.)

60-20501

Lyndon B. Johnson: Mrs. Johnson

CGS12F2

Los Johnsons hacen un alto en sus actividades para tomar una taza de café, con su vecina y prima, la señora Oriole Bailey, después de haber dado una vuelta a caballo, por su rancho de Tejas.

LYNDON B. JOHNSON (MRS. JOHNSON)