

02-91262

HISTORIC SIGNING -- President Richard Nixon signs the Nuclear Non-Proliferation Treaty at the State Department in Washington on March 5. Secretary of State William Rogers is at left. Instruments of ratification have been deposited by 47 nations. With simultaneous ceremonies in London and Moscow, the treaty now has sufficient number of depositors to bring it into effect. (70-319)

