

C7S25F2
HISTORIC TREATY --- Vladimir Hall in the Kremlin in Moscow, was the site for the signing of the strategic arms limitation treaty by President Richard Nixon (left) and Soviet Communist party chief Leonid Brezhnev. The pact limits the growth of defensive nuclear armaments in each country. An interim accord freezing offensive weapons at the present numerical levels was also signed. Both leaders hailed the agreements as historic steps toward a more stable peace in the world.

(72-1621)

C7S25F2