

CULTURE IN SUBURBIA -- The new Orange County Performing Arts Center glows in the twilight in Costa Mesa , California. The $70 million structure, located some 55 kilometers south of Los Angeles, has seating for up to 3,000 persons. It is one of a number of culture facilities built in recent years in small towns and cities outside the major metropolitan centers in the United States.

CIBSIOFA (87-1712-C)

