

WHERE SHE LIVED. More than 150,000 persons come annually from all sections of the United States to visit the Betsy Ross House at 239 Arch Street in Philadelphia. The 18th century furnishings in the interior of the house were provided by American historical and patriotic groups. The house itself was renovated by the city of Philadelphia in 1937. 55-7632

C14536F4

FLAGS