COLECCION FORDS EMBALAJA ECU

BICENTENNIAL DESIGNERS -- Winners of a Bicentennial coin design competition meet Presidential counsellor Anne Armstrong at the White House in Washington. Holding their prize entries are, from left: Dennis Williams, designers of the dollar, Seth Huntington, half dollar, and Jack Ahr, quarter. The coins are to go into production in mid-1975. Normal issue date on the obverse will be replaced by a special commemorative double-dating, 1776-1976. Williams is a 22-year-old student majoring in sculpture at the Columbus (Ohio) College of Art and Design. Huntington works for an advertising agency in Minneapolis, Minnesota. Ahr heads his own custom design company in Arlington, Heights, Illinois. (74-965)
