MOUNT VERNON DRAMA -- "The Father of Liberty," a sound-and-light show on the life of George Washington, is inaugurated at Mount Vernon in Virginia. President Valery Giscard D'Estaing (center) of France presented the show to President Gerald Ford as his country's official Bicentennial gift to the American people. On the platform at left is Mrs. Elizabeth Throckmorton Cooke, regent of the Mount Vernon Ladies' Association that administers the historic home of the first U.S. President. The Statue of Liberty in New York harbor was France's Centennial gift in 1876. (76-1464)
