HOLOCAUST MEMORIAL -- President Ronald Reagan (left) and Harvey Meyerhoff unveil the cornerstone of the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum near the Mall in Washington. The $90 million structure, scheduled to open in 1990, will house an extensive exhibit telling the story of the mass murder of European Jews during World War II. Also included will be an archive and library, lecture rooms, performance spaces and a hall for contemplation. Mr. Meyerhoff is chairman of the Holocaust Memorial Council. In right background is the Washington Monument.
