THE NAME OF LINCOLN LIVES

C13565F2

Abraham Lincoln lives today in the affection and memory of the American people. They honor him as a President of great statesmanship, courage and humanity and as a champion of equality and self-government. On February 12 each year they celebrate his birthday but they remember him every day by the hundreds of things they have named for him.

1-9 ABRAHAM LINCOLN'S STATUE stands at the entrance to the Chicago park and zoological gardens named for him. Here, Boy Scouts pay tribute to the great American President on the anniversary of his birth. (57-26392)
