BROADWAY MELODY -- When the 1946 musical "Lute Song" opened on Broadway, (C8516 F3) critics praised star Mary Martin but paid little notice to aspiring actress Nancy Davis. The now first lady, Nancy Reagan, joins in singing a song from the play with Martin (left) 39 years later at the Shubert Theatre in New York City. The occasion was a tribute to the 72-year-old Martin who has appeared in numerous Broadway musicals over the years. "Lute Song," which ran for 142 performances, was the last appearance by Mrs. Reagan on Broadway. (85-3571-C)
