

TRUMAN COMPLEX-- The Harry S. Truman Sports Complex in Kansas City (Missouri) claims the world's only side-by-side professional baseball and football stadiums. A capacity crowd of 41,000 fans watches a Royals baseball game in the arena that features a water display and 12-story computerized scoreboard (foreground). The Chiefs football team plays in the 78,000-seat oval, that is also used for track, soccer and other athletic events. The complex is named for the late President, who was a native Missourian.
