

FREEDOM RINGS -- Descendants of signatories of the Declaration gently strike the revered Liberty Bell in Philadelphia at two in the afternoon, a signal for a simultaneous pealing all over the country.

(76-1624-C)