

C1S77F3

SURFACE RUN -- Unusual head-on view shows the U.S. Navy's newest nuclear powered attack submarine Baton Rouge crusing near Newport News, Virginia. It is the second of the Los Angeles class, which has higher speed and more advanced anti-submarine warfare capabilities than predecessors. President Jimmy Carter sailed aboard the lead vessel of the class, the USS Los Angeles, in May. Both craft were constructed by the Newport News Shipbuilding company.

(77-3682)