

CAMPAIGN BUTTONS:

These tags were used in the 1900 election when William McKinley and Theodore Roosevelt ran on the Republican ticket against the Democrats' silver-tongued orator William Jennings Bryan. The temper of the time, a period of nationalism, prosperity, and economic growth, is reflected in the extravagant slogans and patriotic symbols employed.

(56-6673)