

CAMPAIGN BUTTONS:

Kerchiefs were a favorite method of Presidential campaign advertising in an earlier day, and are still used to a limited extent. Those displayed here are notable more for enthusiastic representation and wealth of detail than for artistic integrity.

(56-6676)