

2-8: The house at Hyde Park is maintained exactly as it was during Franklin D. Roosevelt's life. His widow, Eleanor Roosevelt, has a cottage nearby, where she lives when her duties as a U.S. delegate to the United Nations do not require her presence at UN headquarters. (51-3349P)

(Picture Story No. 265. This photograph was made at the Hyde Park, New York, home of the late Franklin Delano Roosevelt, 32nd President of the United States. The home is a national shrine, the buildings being open to the public, and the Roosevelt grave is in the rose garden. This birthplace of the man who became a symbol of freedom to many people of the world has attracted half a million visitors yearly. See accompanying text.)
