TERMINAL — View of the main terminal building and control tower at Dulles International Airport, near Washington, D.C. Designed by the late Finnish-born architect Eero Saarinen, the terminal separates arriving and departing passengers on two levels. The hanging roof is supported by light suspension bridge cables between exterior columns.
The control tower is topped by a radar dome. (62-7096)

CIVIL   AVIATION —   AIRPORTS