

FOR ALL TO KNOW AND SEE -- Reporters and cameramen from news agencies, newspapers, radio and television stations from around the world record the June 3 launch of Gemini IV from a special press vantage point at Cape Kennedy, Florida. The launch of two U.S. astronauts into a four-day orbital flight was seen live on American television. Live views of the lift-off were transmitted via Early Bird satellite to television watchers in Great Britain and 11 Western European nations. (65-2137) C24553F5
