

UP AND OVER -- Dan Ripley of the Pacific Coast Track Club sets a new world indoor record in the pole vault as he tops the bar at 5.518 meters (18 feet, $1\frac{1}{4}$ inches) during a track meet at the University of Maryland. The 22-year-old graduate of San Jose (California) State College bettered the old mark of 5.511 meters (18 feet, 1 inch) which he set in 1975. (76-31)
