ROTUNDA RITES -- President Ronald Reagan (top photo) and Vice President George Bush (bottom photo) take the oaths of office for second terms in the Rotunda of the Capitol in Washington on January 21. Chief Justice Warren E. Burger swears in Mr. Reagan and Supreme Court Justice Potter Stewart administers the oath to Mr. Bush as Mrs. Reagan and Mrs. Bush hold family Bibles. These repeats of the official ceremonies, held the day before in the White House, had been planned for the West Front of the Capitol but were forced indoors by frigid temperatures. (85-177-C)
